ABOUT US

THE WORLD'S A STAGE

HTS is a leading UK production company delivering technical excellence with creative flair across live events, festivals, theatre, and corporate experiences.

From concept to completion, we provide fully integrated staging, lighting, sound, video, and structural solutions — transforming creative ideas into seamless, high-impact productions.

With over two decades of experience, our reputation is built on precision, dependability and a genuine passion for innovation. We blend engineering expertise with imaginative design to create environments that engage, inspire and perform flawlessly.

Operating from our BREEAM-Excellent headquarters in Oxfordshire, HTS combines an extensive hire inventory, sustainable working practices, and a national logistics network to support projects of every scale — from boutique activations to multi-stage outdoor festivals.

At HTS, we don't just supply equipment — we deliver production confidence with creativity at its core.

FESTIVALS

STAGES & PRODUCTION

Spectacular stages. Immersive experiences.
Flawless delivery.

At HTS, we bring festivals to life through precision engineering, creative design, and an unrivaled understanding of live event environments. From multi-stage outdoor productions to boutique gatherings, we deliver complete staging, lighting, sound, video, and structures — all seamlessly managed under one roof.

360° TECHNICAL PARTNER

- » LIGHTING & VISUAL DESIGN
- » STAGES & STRUCTURES
- » SOUND SYSTEMS
- » LED & CAMERA SOLUTIONS
- » POWER & DISTRIBUTION

Our strength lies in being a full technical solutions provider — taking logistical pressure off promoters and production teams by managing every element from advance planning and transport to on-site build and show operation. This integrated approach keeps schedules tight, communications clear, and delivery consistent, even in the most demanding conditions.

With decades of experience and a team built around collaboration and problem-solving, HTS is your production partner — not just your supplier.

CORPORATE

Flawless execution. Seamless experiences. Outstanding impression.

At HTS, we transform corporate events into engaging, memorable experiences — combining creative vision with technical precision. From conferences and brand activations to gala dinners and product launches, we provide a complete staging, lighting, audio and video solution that enhances every detail of your event.

As a full-service technical partner, we take the complexity out of production — managing everything from concept and design through to delivery and de-rig. Our experienced project managers work as an extension of your team, ensuring every brief is delivered efficiently, on brand and on budget.

With meticulous planning, dependable crew and a passion for excellence, HTS delivers corporate events that inspire confidence and leave a lasting impression.

Born from a background in live performance, HTS has built its reputation supporting theatres, productions, and touring shows across the UK. We understand the balance between artistic vision and technical reality — delivering lighting, sound, staging, and video systems that perform flawlessly night after night.

Our dedicated project managers and engineers provide complete support, from design and pre-production through to tour logistics, installation and on-site operation. Whether it's a single-venue run or a multi-site tour, we ensure consistency, reliability, and the creative flexibility needed to adapt to each space.

With deep roots in theatre and an unwavering focus on quality, HTS brings the same professionalism and flair to every performance — on stage, on tour and beyond.

STAGES & STRUCTURES

Engineered for performance. Designed for creativity.

At HTS, staging and structural design are at the heart of what we do. From outdoor festival main stages to bespoke corporate builds, our systems are engineered for strength, safety, and speed of installation — without compromising on creativity or visual impact.

Our in-house team design, supply, and deliver complete Layher, truss, and modular staging solutions, supported by detailed structural calculations and compliance with current regulations. Every build is meticulously planned and executed by experienced technicians who understand both the art and the science of live production.

As a turnkey structural partner, we take care of the detail — from logistics and access planning to wind management and certification — so your team can focus on delivering the show.

When you need reliability, precision, and presentation at scale, HTS provides the platform to perform.

EDUCATION

Inspiring creativity. Empowering performance.
Supporting the next generation.

For over two decades, HTS has been a trusted technical partner to schools, colleges, and universities across the UK — helping to create environments where students can learn, perform and shine.

We deliver a complete range of staging, lighting, sound, and video solutions tailored to the unique needs of educational spaces — from full production support, staging, and seating to equipment hire, maintenance and staff training.

Our experienced team understands the realities of educational production: limited budgets, tight timescales and the need for safe, reliable systems that are easy to operate. We work closely with teachers and technical staff to provide practical, high-quality solutions that engage students and elevate every performance.

Whether it's a school musical, graduation ceremony, or a pop-up performance space, HTS helps you create moments that inspire confidence and creativity in every student.
